

Ron A McNeill

Americana/Country Recording Artist

Meet Ron A McNeill

Ron McNeill's musical roots run deep. Born into a large musical family on the east coast of Canada, picking up an instrument and jamming with the family band was second nature. Surrounded by gospel, classic country, and old time rock and roll, McNeill's writing came to reflect these early influences. As a songwriter, McNeill has had over 60 cuts, with songs charting in Canada and Australia. His last single "Hey Bob Dylan" has garnered over 1000 adds to International radio and over 35k organic streams.

PRAYING THE HELL OUT OF ME

"Prayin The Hell Out Of Me," written by Ron McNeill and Jimmy Whiffen, is a story about being a renegade and the judgement that goes along with it. A song that reflects the unapologetic way McNeill lives his life and how his experiences made him the man he is today.

"Praying The Hell Out Of Me" is the follow up single for Award winning artist Ron A McNeill. With the huge success of his last single Hey Bob Dylan McNeill comes back with this hard driving outlaw Country song.
